

Issue #30 | כי תבוא | September 8, 2025 | 15 Elul 5785

With deep hakaras hatov to the Ribono Shel Olam, we reflect on how far the Yeshiva has come in such a short time. Just three years ago, the Yeshiva opened with fewer than 30 talmidim. Today, as we begin Elul zman, we are privileged to welcome 83 wonderful bachurim, each one a true source of nachas and potential.

This growth is only through Hashem's bracha, together with the vision and commitment of our pioneer talmidim and their families. Their belief in the Yeshiva and its mission has enabled it, with siyata dishmaya, to flourish into a vibrant makom Torah. As we enter our fourth year, we daven that Hashem continue to guide us with His bracha and help every talmid — and the Yeshiva as a whole — grow and thrive.

Baruch Hashem, the new year has begun with tremendous energy and excitement in the Yeshiva. The Beis Medresh is alive with powerful learning, filled with the unique atmosphere of Elul as shiurim are in full swing and the schedule is packed with intensity.

One of the highlights of these first weeks was when the entire Yeshiva went together to the Kosel for an inspiring tefillah and heartfelt singing. The ruach was so uplifting that the moment was even shared widely across Jewish news outlets.

The new talmidim are settling in beautifully, forming bonds with each other and connecting with the older talmidim, creating a strong sense of achdus within the Yeshiva.

While construction of the expanded campus is moving forward—though not as quickly as we had hoped—Baruch Hashem the Yeshiva is fully functioning. Even with the crowded conditions, the talmidim are thriving with simcha. Recognizing the need for a bit more space, it was decided to expand the Beis Medrash. This past Thursday afternoon and evening, while the talmidim were on a trip, a contractor worked through the night to enlarge the Beis Medrash. With Siyata Dishmaya, the work was completed expeditiously, and by Sunday morning the talmidim returned to a more spacious and comfortable Beis Medrash, ready for another week of learning.

This past Thursday, the first-year talmidim enjoyed a special trip to Ashdod for exciting water sports together with their rebbeim, followed by a beautiful dinner and inspiring kumzitz. This trip was not only fun, but also was an opportunity for the talmidim to connect with their rebbeim and each other in a different setting.

The first Shabbos of the zman was an "In Shabbos" for all first-year talmidim, together with the Mashgiach Rabbi Brodie, Rabbi Newman, and their families. The Shabbos was filled with ruach, divrei Torah, delicious seudos, and a special Oneg Shabbos that left everyone uplifted and inspired.

This upcoming Shabbos will be an "In Shabbos" for the entire Yeshiva and will be joined by the Rosh Yeshiva and family, as well as other Rebbeim. It promises to be elevating and enjoyable. On Motzei Shabbos, the entire Yeshiva and Rebbeim will gather for a special Melave Malka and kumzitz, followed by an inspiring Pre-Selichos Drasha from HaGaon HaRav Nissan Kaplan shlit"a, leading into Selichos.

We look forward to continuing to share updates with you as the Yeshiva grows and flourishes during this very special zman and the beginning of a new year

Kollel Boker Chaim V'Shalom

The Yeshiva has once again launched its Pre-Shacharis learning program, giving talmidim the opportunity to begin their day with an uplifting 30-minute seder before davening. Talmidim can learn with a chavrusa or join a small chaburah led by the Rosh Yeshiva or Mashgiach.

Participants who attend at least four days a week enjoy a special boutique breakfast each week, and those with outstanding monthly participation are awarded a cash prize. The program not only ensures that talmidim arrive at Shacharis on time, but also motivates them to come early and maximize their morning with extra learning—truly starting the day in the best way.

Sponsorship opportunities are available, with the zechus of the learning dedicated l'ilui nishmas or as a merit for a special need.

- Full weekly sponsorship: $360
- Partial sponsorship: $180
